“ I didn't really know Weasel, but my mom did. She was always quite fond of him and his kindness and humor. Still, I'm sad to see he's gone, and send my condolences to his family. I know my mom would send them as well if she was online.

“ You often knew spring was finally here because you'd see him with a Dollar General shopping cart pushing someone's recovered Muffler back to his trailer so he could scrap it or use it. When I worked at the ice cream shop attached to the car wash by Schneider's as a young teen, he would sit there at night anytime I closed and not only would he take out the trash for me but he also sat there, kept an eye on me, and made sure no strangers came and bothered me. He always called me "Sissy." I know he was known for causing a ruckus at times but to me he was nothing but kind and for that I appreciate him and I will miss him!!
