“ My mother found the obituary and let me know that Robbie passed on. We were friends when we were kids in grade school; going to each others houses, playing video games together, trading toys, running around at recess together. We lost contact with each other after his mother passed, but I still remember those days fondly. He was a good man.
Rest easy friend.

“ Robbie I still can't believe this is real. We have so so many memories together threw out our many years but my favorite is us just driving around everywhere blasting music and chilling our long talks. I love you Forever and I know you are by my side because you Promised me.
