I was fortunate to know Robert. He came to dinner and brought me 12 dozen roses. He loved Mexican food. He told us many fascinating stories about his life. He gave me copies of a dozen of his books. We both loved horses and Africa. He wrote the prologue in a book we did on our stallion, Padrons Psyche. We contributed to publishing one of his last books. He was a fascinating man. I tried calling him several times, and thought maybe he was in Spain. I was so sorry to hear he had passed. May he Rest In Peace. He was a great man and we were proud to know him Dixie and Robert North
